2012 Unilever Confined Space Entrant / Attendent Training Form

I, _____ have attended a safety training session on confined space entry
(Please print name)
procedures in accordance with the OSHA CFR 1910.146 Confined Space Regulation and Unilever Safety Guideline #13 "Work in Confined Spaces."

Topics Addressed

- Know how to recognize a confined space and the definition of a confined space.
  - Know that a confined space permit signed by a Unilever representative is required prior to entry.
  - Understand that Unilever requires communication with the Unilever Security Watch Office before and after entry.
  - Know the hazards that may be faced during entry of a confined space.
  - Know the mode or method by which people entering the confined space may be exposed to the hazard. (breathing, skin contact, etc.)
  - Know the signs, symptoms and consequences of exposure, including behavioral effects.
  - Know the precautions employed to protect the entrants during the job.
  - Know the lockout/tagout procedures.
  - Have knowledge of the specific training for individual tasks of confined space personnel as listed below:
    1. Supervisor (Unilever representative only)
    2. Confined Epace Entrant
    3. Dedicated Safety Watch / Attendant
  - Know the method of communication between confined space personnel.
  - Understand that Unilever requires each Contractor Company to provide their own equipment for confined space entry including an external retrieval device.
- *Unilever uses the Hammond Fire Department Emergency Response services for Confined Space rescue.

- Know the method for summoning rescue or other emergency services without leaving the area. (radio, telephone, hand signals, voice, etc.)
- Know the proper use of all safety equipment, including gas monitors, rescue lifeline and harness, etc. if practical. (i.e.: Will assist in the rescue and won't add risk to the job.)
- Know to immediately exit the confined space whenever conditions inside (or outside) warrant, or if an evacuation signal is given.
